

In 2022-23, households with dependent children were more likely to live in damp homes (14% and 7%) compared to other rented sector households (8% and 5%).