

Owner-occupied and local authority homes had the highest central heating coverage at 95%, followed by housing association homes at 91%, and private rented homes at 86%.